ABOUT NFTGA-USA

The National Federation of Tourist Guide Associations-USA (NFTGA-USA) was formed in 1998 when members of tour guide associations and guilds from across the United States gathered for the first national forum to discuss issues pertinent to the tourism and travel industry related to guiding. The seed idea was for guides to share the knowledge and experience garnered while working in diverse areas across the U.S., so they may better understand trends and challenges in local and national tourism.

The focus and commitment of the NFTGA-USA is to promote effective training and continuing education, while upholding a strict code of ethics and demonstrating the highest degree of professionalism. It is essential that guides welcome visitors and act in such a way as to promote their country, region and city as desirable tourist destinations.

Tourist guides are the frontline tourism professionals; they act as good-will ambassadors to throngs of domestic and international visitors who visit our cities and our nation. Formation of the NFTGA-USA was the first step towards promoting the visibility and importance of using professionally trained guides.
